Rev. Stanton S. Burdett believed in the tradition that the name Burdick was a corruption of Burdett and after his marriage chose to be known by the latter name. He was a Baptist minister and the author of a hymn book entitled "The Baptist Harmony" published in Philadelphia by E.W. Miller. The preface is dated "Pleasant Hill, S.C., July 1834", and is signed. The book is a collection of "choice hymns and spiritual songs for social worship". A copy of it was owned by Mrs. Sarah Seabury Spaulding of Norwich, Conn. who inherited it from her father, Henry W. Burdick.

In 1846 Rev. Mr. Burdick moved to Lafayette (now a part of New Orleans) and was a member of its City Council during the last year of Lafayette's existence as a distinct corporation. He was a distinguished member of the Sons of Temperance, Odd Fellows and Masonic orders, which were well represented at his funeral. He died at his home on Eighth St. between Camp and Chestnut St, Fourth District (late Lafayette) of New Orleans. The New Orleans Journals in announcing his death highly eulogized his character as a minister and a civilian. Mrs. Spaulding writes that she has a pleasant memory of a visit paid by Mrs. Sophronia M. (Fort) Burdick about 1856 to her late husband's relatives. She came to Joseph Burdick in Philadelphia, her husband's nephew. She describes her as a typical Southern woman, with dark complexion, black eyes and hair. She sang plantation songs and showed us how the darkies danced, Aunt Emeline playing for her. She was an only child and inherited a plantation, a number of slaves, twelve of whom she rented out by the month as house servants.

unmarried.

Charles and Martha (Burdick) Saunders were the first American missionaries to Palestine. They introduced modern agricultural methods into the Holy Land.

She was one of the strongest women intellectually the town ever produced. Her early years were spent in Westerly, but after her marriage she resided for a time in Providence, but in March 1854 with her husband and daughter left for the Holy Land, where she spent over six years as a missionary, her home being in Jaffa, the seaport of Jerusalem. Before leaving this country she acquired a knowledge of medicine by attending medical lectures and attending the sick.

When James G. Burdick was a year old his parents removed from Springfield to Newburyfield, N.H. Here he received his education, also attending school at Fitchburg two years. In August 1862 he went to Cambridge County, living in Ipswich three years and then coming to Salisburyville. He learned the Carpenter Trade, became a large contractor and erected many buildings in the surrounding country. In 1880 he joined the Artillery Company, later reorganized the 16th Regiment N.H. Militia and retained the rank of captain when he resigned in 1894. He served the Democratic ticket and was for ten years a constable, the only office he ever held. He was for many years a member of the Methodist Church.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a very important document, as it sets out the President's policy for the new year. The President, Abraham Lincoln, writes that he has no intention of interfering with the rights of the States, but that he will maintain the Union at all costs. He also mentions the recent election of secessionist Jefferson Davis as President of the Confederate States, and expresses his hope that the Union will remain intact.

Thomas Burdick and his brother Billings came with their uncle Elias Burdick from Rhode Island to Clifford Township, Pa. in 1816. Thomas Burdick lived on the farm south of the one now owned by Elisha Burdick where the latter's father, Elias, lived. Avery Burdick afterward owned the farm where his father, Thomas Burdick, lived.

Henry M. Davis is listed from Allegany Co., N.Y. in the 120th Infantry and served around Suffolk, Va. and other points until the regiment was changed to the First N.Y. Engineers, which was attached to the First Div. under Gen. Merritt. He was at the Wilderness, Cold Springs, Sharpsburg Raid, to the James River, and at Winchester and Five Forks. He witnessed the surrender of Lee at Appomattox and took part in the Grand Review at Washington, D.C. May 23, 1865 and on account of the loss of the war was honorably discharged June 30, 1865.
He spent most of his life at Alfred. He was Deputy Sheriff for 14 years

Henry M. Davis enlisted from Alleghany Co., N.Y. in the 130th infantry and served around Suffolk, Va. and other points until the regiment was changed to the First N.Y. Dragoons, which was attached to the First Div. under Gen. Merritt. He was at the Wilderness, Todd Tavern, Sheridans Raid, to the James River, and at Winchester and Five Forks. He witnessed the surrender of Lee at Appomattox and took part in the Grand Review at Washington, D.C. May 23, 1865 and on account of the close of the war was honorably discharged June 30, 1865. He spent most of his life at Alfred. He was deputy sheriff for 12 years

Corin H. Burdick while residing at New Haven, Conn. was commissioned second lieutenant of Co. H. 27th Regt. Inf. Conn. Vol. Sept. 11, 1862, and was promoted to first lieutenant May 15, 1863 and commanded the company on the return home, when he was honorably discharged July 27th, 1863. He participated in the battle of Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and a number of minor actions. He was taken prisoner at Chancellorsville and confined eight days in Libby prison, Richmond, when he was discharged. He was an inventor and a manufacturer of salt and nut machinery, being a pioneer in the business.

Mrs. Corin Burdick says: "I don't know as we have any authority to spell our name 'Burd' instead of 'Burr'. An older half-brother claimed it was the right way and this family have written it this way ever since."
